

Confusion On High School's Receipts

Keenan Cites Record Of Two Year's Service

Representative Henry E. Keenan of the 28th Middlesex District calls to the attention of the voters, the record he has been able to establish over the past two years.

1. Cleaning up the pollution of the Alewife Brook and making it an attractive entrance to Arlington. Resurfacing Alewife Brook highway.

2. Resurfacing and safety zoning the Concord Turnpike and cleaning up the surrounding area.

3. Banks of the Mystic Valley Parkway cleaned up and benches installed. Traffic circle at Alewife roadway. Area to be resurfaced and cleaned up.

4. Legislation approved for engineering study to clean up Spy Pond.

5. 100 per cent attendance record to duty.

Additional records of accomplishments will be published next week.

"What will we do with the money? Will referees at football games have to be civil service? Will High School ushers have to be civil service? Can the High School team play out of state? Will cafeteria help have to be civil service? Who owns the money formerly belonging to the Athletic Association? Who started all this business anyway?"

These are the question posed on the lips of Town treasurer J. Wilbert Anderson, Mr. Raymond Morrill, principal of the high school and treasurer of the athletic association, and anyone connected with the new legislation relative to physical education in high schools throughout the state.

Edward Sylvia, State Representative from Martha's Vineyard, introduced a bill into the 1950 session of the house, which was passed, giving the various cities and towns throughout the state the right to vote money for high school teams to play out of state. This was the supposed essence of the bill, according to the Representative, who claimed he introduced the bill when it was found that smaller ball teams like Martha's Vineyard High, could not

Arlington Against Flat Rate Proposal

"Unless voters in low-rate communities like Arlington go to the polls November 7 and vote NO on Question No. 5, the present rate for compulsory automobile insurance now enjoyed by car owners here is in serious danger, Mr. Edward Rice, well-known Boston insurance executive, told the Community club of Arlington at a meeting on October 19th.

"Drivers here in Arlington have earned their lower rate through safer driving, by avoiding accidents in which people are injured," said

Mr. Rice. "Our present community merit rate plan makes this possible. At the present time, the people in Arlington are paying $29.10 per year for compulsory insurance alone. That compulsory insurance ity insurance up to $5,000 for injury to one person, $10,000 for injury to more than one person in the same accident. The compulsory rate does not include coverage for excess limits, guest coverage, proper-

Dever Strikes At Coolidge Record

"Neither veterans and their families nor working men and women of the Commonwealth will be fooled by the 1950 edition of perennial Republican promises," Gov. Paul A. Dever said yesterday. "My opponent, Mr. Coolidge," the Governor said, "is telling the voters that they can trust him. What can the people trust him to do?"

"Let's take a look at the record of Arthur W. Coolidge in the Massachusetts State Senate.

"This record is taken from the official journal of the Massachusetts Legislature on roll calls.

"Coolidge voted against the Fair Employment Law to forbid discrimination in employment of the minority racial groups. I don't why he did. Let him explain his vote to the minority groups he now asks for support.

"Let veterans and their families consider Coolidge's record on veterans' centers.

"In 1944, Coolidge voted against veterans hospitals; against paying the veterans a bonus; against allowing veterans to vote by absentee ballot; against erection of veterans' centers.

"Let working men and women consider the record of Coolidge on bills affecting their welfare.

"In 1943, Coolidge voted against paying annuities to the widows of deceased public employees; against protecting working women before and after childbirth; against increasing minimum and maximum amounts of weekly compensation to be paid to injured employees and against badly needed pay raises.

"I will say nothing now about Coolidge's votes in favor of loan sharks, against exempting veterans from payment of poll taxes, against free instruction at Mass. State College; against giving those on old age assistance hospital and medical attention.

"I offer for the consideration of all the voters, particularly the veterans and laboring men and women, a few of my accomplishments in the past twenty-one months.

"By the end of this year, nearly 14,000 housing units for veterans will have been completed and occupied

"This is in contrast to the record of the Bradford-Coolidge administration during which not a single veterans' housing unit was built.

"Under my sponsorship, the following bills have been passed to aid veterans or their dependents: civil service preference to widows and the widowed mothers of service men; increasing from $500 to $750 the amount of money the Commonwealth can pay for the higher education of children of Massachusetts

Red Feather Campaign Off With Flying Start

Arlington got off to a flying start on its Community Fund Campaign last Sunday when special sermons and prayers were offered in local churches and when in the first few days of the week there was shown an increase in the number and size of contributions.

According to Daniel B. Tierney, Red Feather chairman, it's a good thing that Fund workers have gotten off to such a good start and that Arlingtonians have proven so generous in the early stages of the campaign for this community is expected to give more than it ever has in the past. $30,400. is the quota for 1950 and there is slightly more than a month left in which to raise it.

Inflation, of course, is one of the major reasons for the 20 per cent increase. There are others, however. Among them is the fact that the Community Fund will contribute a substantial sum to agencies that will provide the same type of services that the USO did during the last war.

Elmer Westlund, chairman of the North Metropolitan District, gave further reasons for the higher quota in a talk to Fund workers at a Kick-off party which was held at the Boys Club last Friday. "Greater pressure, he said, is being put on Red Feather agencies for more service. There is need for more money to make these necessary services available - services which more than 3,000 Arlingtonians sought last year. Just to give as much service as was given last year will require more money-so, in order to keep our heads above water everybody will have to give a little more, he said. "It is imperative that Greater Boston meet its quota of $7,000,000, and imperative that Arlington do its part toward making the quota."

Workers were entertained at the party by students from the Arlington Academy of Music. Rose Marie Rohano, Marian Stall and Joseph Martino were the featured artists. Mrs. John K. Barry showed a number of color slides that pictured graphically the services of Red Feather agencies.

Meanwhile, young Arlingtonians are doing their bit in this drive. Boxes for contributions have been placed in all schools and one high school junior, Miss Constance Foote, won third place in the Red Feather speaking contest. She had

Time Short For Safety Stickers

Inspection stations here handling the safety checkup of cars for the fall sticker this week reported a rush of motorists for the sticker as the deadline for obtaining same draws near.

The deadline for getting the sticker is Tuesday, Oct. 31, and no cars will be allowed on the lower right hand corner of the windshield.

Stations reported a rush of motorists this week as time commenced to get short.

Incidentally, cars with cracked windshields will not be given the road after that date unless they carry the new red sticker in the sticker until the condition is corrected.

There will be no exceptions. Registrar King has pointed out to the inspection stations and motorists.

No Indication Dog Poisoned

The autopsy report on one of the dead dogs in Arlington Heights indicated that death was due to natural causes and not due to poison as previously suggested, the Board of Selectmen revealed yesterday.

The report, sent to the Town by the Animal Rescue League, states that the dog died of a convulsive seizure that had been a complication of distemper. The autopsy showed no trace of poison according to the League.

Charges and counter-charges flew right and left this week as Arlingtonians sifted through thousands of words of political discussion prior to going to the polls on Tuesday November 7, to elect candidate who will run the state and county for the next two years.

The M. T. A. comes in for a big part of the discussion this week, with Governor Paul A. Dever giving his answers to critics on Page seven of this week's PRESS.

Meanwhile Senate candidate Joseph A. Purcell of Arlington was meeting scores of new supporters Medford, Winchester and Woburn as he battled for the seat vacated by Senate President Harris S. Richardson of Winchester. Mr. Purcell's strong campaign committees in those communities were aiding his acknowledged preponderance of support in Arlington.

Henry E. Keenan and Lawrence Corcoran, Democratic aspirants for re-election and election to the House of Representatives respectively, were pointing to flaws in the records of their Republican opponents, Hollis M. Gott and Hall T. Ring, as the two important places were at stake. With the House destined to be close, sweep of the two seats by either party could prove significant in the organization of the next House.

Governor Dever was conducting lightning rallies throughout the area, while Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers, favorite for re-election, also made an Arlington appearance.

Governor Dever was bearing the brunt of the campaigning for the major offices in the state for his party, while Mr. Coolidge Mr. Curtis and Mr. Ayer were leading the G. O. P.

Two interesting sidelights are the Battle by the Committee for Community Insurance Rates to defeat the proposed flat rate insurance rate, and the fight against the dangerous lottery bill for old age assistance. Again the PRESS points out that those who are opposed to a State Lottery should also oppose the Third article on the ballot, which would be paid for by the lottery. Without enactment of the lottery, the state would be in a dangerous position.

A very large vote was forecast in Arlington, due to the efforts of the large committees supporting both slates, the work of the four candidates for representative, and the enthusiastic campaign for Mr. Purcell.

The churches of the community are asking their members to turn out to oppose the lottery bill, insurance offices and automobile groups are urging defeat of the flat rate measure, and all in all, a large turnout is forecast for November 7.

Police Search Spy Pond Area, Man Safe

The Arlington Police carried on an intensive five hour search Sunday night in an effort to find a 75 year old man who had left his home at 2:30 pm. to go for a walk in the Spy Pond area.

Daniel McLaughlin, 311 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington was reported missing at 6:00 pm. An occupant of 311 Massachusetts Avenue told Police McLaughlin had left at 2:30 pm. and had not returned home.

Two Police cruisers were sent to the Spy Pond area, but reported he was not in the vicinity.

The cruisers searched through nearby streets on the assumption that the man had not walked far. At 10:00 pm. police were again advised that McLaughlin had not returned home and they were requested to drag the pond fearing that the man had fallen in.

The fire Department supplied lights for the pond area near Linwood St., and dragging operations were about to begin when another call to headquarters informed them that McLaughlin had been found in the Rings Sanatorium.

hen Police arrived at the sanatorium and questioned the missing man he said, "Heck I just went for a long walk. What's wrong with that?"

raise enough money in gate receipts to pay for their transportation to the mainland to oppose other high school teams.

However, the results were disastrous. The bill was amended, subtracted from and added to, in order that it might conform to state by laws. When the finished product emerged it called for the doing away of all high school athletic associations and their money was to be turned over to City and Town treasurers by October 18th of this year.

Mr. Anderson, Arlington treasurer, says that he does not know if he can accept any money the association had prior to the 18th of the month. He claims all gifts to the Town have to be accepted at Town meetings and all money in the association's treasury would be a gift.

Another problem arises in that anybody that works under state law has to be civil service. Confusion reigns as to the position of referees, scoreboard men, ushers, ticket sellers, and all other paid helpers at ball games.

All of these people were formerly paid right after the game but now they can't be paid until the Town, or somebody, straightens out the mass of red tape.

Another law, similar to this one was effected in August giving the Town control over school cafeterias. The office of civil service has said all employees of school cafeterias will now have to be civil service.

The question of the high school playing an out of state game was aired at a session with the school committee and the treasurer on Monday.

It was generally agreed that the team could not use any of the athletic association's money for travel expense unless the Town meeting appropriates the funds. However, if the money is raised by a separate organization and that organization pays the bills then the team could go on a trip, if the School committee gave its approval. This is the only way around the law.

All concerned expressed the hope that the Legislature would make some attempt to straighten out the mess of red tape and stark confusion the new legislation has caused.

ty damage, fire, theft, collision or any other protection that most prudent car-owners carry.

"Actually, on the basis of the present rate, a flat rate would cost each Arlington car owner about $3.00 more a year than they pay now. On the basis of an estimated registration in Arlington of about 11,700 cars, that means that over $35,000.00 would be drained out of the town in the first year alone, under a flat rate.

"This is in effect an unfair tax," declared Mr. Rice "from which the residents of Arlington can get no possible benefit. The money would simply go to help pay the cost of accidents caused by drivers of relatively careless driving communities like Boston, Chelsea and Revere.

Mr. Rice stressed that the flat rate scheme which is Question No. 5 on the ballot at the November 7 Election is a vital issue not only to the residents of Arlington, but to thinking citizens of the entire state.

"Passage of the flat rate," warned Mr. Rice "would surely lead to higher accident rates, and more people injured and killed on Massachusetts streets and highways."

Hospital Campaign To Start Very Soon

A meeting of campaign leader and representatives of various Arlington and Lexington organizations met at the Symmes Arlington Hospital on the evening of October 23rd to get a report of the activities of the hospital for the past year and to discuss ways and means of retiring the costs of the Completion Program.

Mr. Ernest W. Davis, President of the Board of Trustees presided at the meeting and explained the activities of the past year and the financial picture that now exists.

Mr. Davis introduced Mr. James J. Golden, Town Clerk of Arlington who served as Chairman for the Public Campaign in 1949 and who has agreed to head the work which will be required to complete the total project.

Mrs. Stanley Kingman and Mr. Joseph Gaudet, who headed the Women's and Men's Divisions in Arlington, were present at the meeting and expressed their willingness to re-form the respective divisions.

Mrs. Harold Lombard, who headed the Lexington Women's Division was unable to attend because of illness.

Ways and means of organization were discussed and it was unanimously agreed by all present that a completion campaign would be undertaken some time in the next few months and "LET'S FINISH THE JOB" was adopted as the theme for the effort.

A round table was held and basic suggestions for immediate important organizational work brought into discussion. The meet-

Crusade For Freedom Now In High Gear

The Crusade for Freedom went into high gear this week and is well on the road to exceeding the goal set for it in Massachusetts, Nathan Tufts of Greenfield, state chairman, announced this week.

Completed scrolls, each containing signatures of 50 persons who thus affirm their belief in freedom for the individual and pledge themselves to resist tyranny and aggression, are pouring into Crusade headquarters at 80 Federal Street, Boston, Tufts said.

Everyone connected with the drive looks for it to increase in tempo right up to United Nations Day, Oct. 24, when the Freedom Bell will be dedicated in Berlin and the signed scrolls will be enshrined in its base. Massachusetts citizens, besides signing the scrolls, are contributing generously to the Crusade, Tufts declared. Their dimes, quarters and dollars will be applied to help finance a chain of private radio stations in Western Europe beamed to pierce the Iron Curtain with American truth and messages of encouragement for oppressed peoples throughout Europe and Asia.

Contributions to the Crusade should be sent to Frederic C. Church, Treasurer, Crusade for Freedom, 80 Federal Street, Boston.

Curtis Hits Waste, Asks GOP Support

As the election campaign approached its climax, former State Treasurer Laurence Curtis of Boston, the Republican candidate for lieutenant-governor, hammered away this week on his platform of ridding Massachusetts of the "wastefulness and political favoritism of the current state administration" and urged that voters "place in office men who will make sane, wise, and humane decisions, and put state and country ahead of politics."

Emphasizing issues rather than personalities, Curtis warns that "It is gradually being brought home to all of us what the cost to the average citizen of wasteful and bungling government is terrific."

"Your dollar no longer brings a dollar's worth of goods," he says. "Every mother and housewife knows that the price of milk went up during October. November brings a new 10 per cent tax on television sets and home freezers. The increased withholding tax is a further deduction from the take-home pay of nearly every Massachusetts worker. Furthermore, even higher taxes are sure to come."

"Already controls on credit buying and allocations of certain materials have been ordered, and more controls are coming. We shall be lucky if we can avoid an economic straight-jacket."

Wiser policies could have made some of this unnecessary, Curtis maintains.

"Under the present administration, statesmanship has degenerated into political favoritism and vote buying. It is time for a change. It is time to vote into office men who will not add to our burdens through wastefulness and extravagance."

In 1947 and 1948 Curtis served as State Treasurer. Previously he had served in the Boston City Council, the State House of Representatives and the State Senate. In 1949, he devoted himself to serving as volunteer State Campaign Chairman for the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society during the organization's annual fund-raising drive.

ARLINGTON EMBLEM CLUB

The next monthly bridge and whist party of the Arlington Emblem Club will be held at 2 pm. on November 2nd at the club's quarters, Odd Fellows Hall, 661 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington. Mrs. Josephine Barrett is chairman of the affair.

Named Head Of Xmas Seal Drive

Dr. L. Curtis Foye, 88 School St., has been named chairman of the 1950 Christmas Seal Sale for Arlington according to an announcement today by Dr. William R. Martin, President of the Middlesex Health Association, the county tuberculosis agency. Although the mail of Seals does not begin until November 21, preparations for the campaign are now underway.

The Seal Sale in Middlesex County is part of the forty-fourth Annual Christmas Seal Sale to be conducted throughout the country by the three thousand tuberculosis agencies affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association. The Seal Sale is the sole annual appeal of these voluntary associations for funds to conduct their year-round programs of tuberculosis prevention and control. This will mark the twenty-sixth year that the Seal Sale is being conducted in this country in cooperation with the Middlesex Health Association.

Today the work in tuberculosis control is basically three-pronged: Health Education, Case Finding and Rehabilitation. Because tuberculosis often develops long before symptoms appear, workers in this field endeavor to find early cases among apparently healthy groups in the community. Emphasis is now being placed on chest x-rays, free of charge, to all residents in a community who are fifteen years of age and over. Community x-ray programs will be conducted in Marlboro, Billerica, Chelmsford and Carlisle this fall. In addition, all colleges, Medford foodhandlers and many small industries in Hudson, Framingham, Medford and Everett have been x-rayed during the past year.

"We want to make the 1950 Seal Sale in our country the best ever conducted," the local chairman recently agreed. We can all participate in the fight against tuberculosis by buying and using Christmas Seals. For, funds from the sale of these Seals constitute the sole support of the Middlesex Health Association in relentless battle against tuberculosis.

Honored At Simmons

Miss Marion E. Slattery, daughter of Mrs. Mary Slattery of 1125 Mass. Ave., Arlington has been awarded two scholarships at Simmons College for 1950-51. A junior in the school of Science, she is a member of the Newman Club, Glee Club and Chairman of the Fund Drive for her class.

Purcell Gains Strength From Outside Cities

House parties, rallies and organizational meetings have been the nightly routine during the past two weeks for Selectman Joseph A. Purcell, candidate for State Senator in the 6th Middlesex District.

Purcell forces announced yesterday, they have received unwavering pledges of support from the three major Medford candidates in the September primary; Francis P. Greelish, David T. McCarthy, and Councillor Andrew "Hawk" Zamparelli. President of the Board of Aldermen in Woburn, Thomas R. Shaugnessey, one of the major contenders in the primary contest, has also promised to lead the fight for Purcell in Woburn. An active committee has been formed in Winchester to head the Purcell for State Senator campaign in that town.

The Purcell for State Senator Headquarters, located in Arlington Centre on Massachusetts Avenue opposite Medford Street will be open every evening until the election. All friends and supporters are invited to participate in the nightly gatherings.

"Competence in office, educational and professional background, sound legislative ability which will serve the needs of all the people in the district, are the attributes which Purcell offers the voter," declared Purcell supporters.

They went on to point out that Campbell of Medford, the opposing candidate, had a negative legislative record which resulted in his defeat in 1948 for representative, and again in 1949 he was soundly defeated for alderman, failing to win any of the nine vacancies on this board!

To Appear On Radio

Among the junior and senior high school students who will appear on the Student Radio Club over WCOP next Sunday will be: Paul and Robert Murphy, 63 Iroquois rd., Paul Dahill, 91 Harlow st.; Warren Heap, 35 Bonad rd.; Harold Wilson, 137 Mt. Vernon st.; and Franklin Inman, 2 Aberdine rd.; who will do a reading titled "Being Brave At Night."

BURNS-WHITEMORE

Miss Dorothy Rose Whittemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel T. Whittemore of Stoneham and Varney Point, Gifford, N.H., became the bride on Oct. 12 of William Henry Burns, son of Major William H. Burns and the late Mrs. Agnes Burns of Arlington, in the First Congregational Church in Stoneham. Rev. Arthur Snow and Rev. Nathan W. Wood were the officiating clergymen, and a reception followed in Dean Hall.

Mrs. Mager R. Greenough was matron of honor for her cousin, and the bridesmaids were Miss Estelle Hollingworth, Miss Nancy Larsen, Miss Bertha A. Monroe, and Miss Katherine Tilton.

James Burns of Randolph was best man for his twin brother, and the ushers were Lee B. and Joel T. Whittemore Jr., brothers of the bride and Oliver and Donald Houghton.

The bride is a graduate of Lasell Junior College, and Simmons.

Mr. Burns served as a lieutenant for fourteen months with the Air Force in Europe during World War II. He is a graduate of Boston University. School of Business Administration.

Traffic Tie-Up In Winchester

Traffic was tied up for over two hours on Mystic st., in Winchester, Thursday night, when a ten ton milk truck went off the road and up an embankment near Glen ave.

The truck, owned by the Coagrove trucking Co., was loaded with milk and enroute to Arlington from New Hampshire when, as it neared Glen ave., following three cars, one of the cars stopped short. The driver of the truck to avoid smashing into the car in front of him steered off of the road and up an embankment coming to rest against a light pole just off of the road.

The traffic became tangled when operations to move the truck were started. After efforts to push and pull the truck from its position failed a block and tackle were rigged, around a tree at right angles to the truck, pulling the trailer tank into an upright position and then towing the truck clear of pole.

The truck and pole were undamaged and the truck proceeded to deliver its tons of milk.

FOUR PORK CHOPS

Still Serve Four

The pork chop is no bigger... the pound no heavier than it was ten years ago. Yet the cost — per chop or per pound — has more than doubled.

In a time when you expect double prices for the same old measure, your telephone service is a welcome exception.

Your telephone reaches more people... your service is faster and better... yet, in actual cost, your telephone takes a much smaller percentage of your household budget than it did ten years ago. That's because living costs have gone up much more than telephone costs.

New name for the Arlington Red and Gray. The gas house eleven.

Joe Egan was hospitalized during the game Saturday. Hospital authorities reported he suffered from torn ligaments and strained muscles in his leg and he was discharged after treatment.

The passing of Bill Kenealy was terrific. This was the first time that Arlington has used the air to such advantage. Possibly it should have been tried a couple of weeks ago.

The score of Saturday's game would make one think it was a pushover. With the exception of the Waltham game this was the first time that the first squad had to play four quarters.

Gridders Capture Newton Game 25-7

By FRANK MAHONEY

The pass combination of Bill Kenealy to Paul Salisbury coupled with line plunging, end running Don O'Brien and Dick Muello, led Arlington High to a 25-7 rout over a fumble affected Newton High, Saturday afternoon, at the Warren A. Pierce stadium before a paltry throng of 2500.

The Arlington "gas house eleven", really put on an aerial show with Kenealy completing three passes to Salisbury, one for a TD. In order, the yardage by passing was 36 yds., 32 yds., and 20 yds.

The orange and Black was harassed by fumbleitis all afternoon, two of the fumbles resulting in Arlington scores. The lone Newton marker was set up shortly after the second quarter opened with left half back Tripp racing through the Arlington eleven, 70 yards for a six pointer. The kick was good giving Newton a small one point lead for a while.

POINT LOOKED GOOD

The game opened with Arlington on the receiving end of the kickoff. The ball was taken on the home team's 11 yard line and run back to the Newton 44 before a pass interception halted the Spy Ponders drive. The ball having been taken on the Newton 15 was carried to the 31 when a 15 yard penalty put it back on the 16. Newton kicked.

O'Brien took the kick on the opponents 45 and rushed it back to the 30 where he was downed. Dick Muello carried to the 20 and Salisbury and O'Brien carried for five yards each to the ten as the period ended.

The second quarter opened with Salisbury going to the one and O'Brien going over for the first score. The kick went to the right of the post and Arlington led 6-0. This was short lived.

Newton grabbed the kickoff on its 25 and ran it back to the 38. On the next play Tripp carried and attempted a line plunge. It looked as though he was downed when he suddenly appeared in the rear of the line of scrimmage where he walked for about five yards before breaking into a run that took him 70 yards for the Newton tally. Dauten kicked for the orange and black and they led 7-6.

EGAN INJURED

Salisbury and O'Brien lugged the ball to the Newton 46 and on the ensuing play Kenealy backed and passed to Salisbury on the 10. Kenealy carried to the seven and O'Brien to the one where he fumbled. Doyle grabbed the ball as it rolled over the goal line giving Arlington another score. Oppedisano missed the kick again and Arlington led, 12-7.

Newton, again on the receiving end picked up the ball on their 44 and after two incomplete passes Tripp fumbled the ball on the Arlington 20 following a three way lateral play which carried the pigskin 24 yards. The half ended with Arlington leading, 12-7.

TWO MORE FUMBLES

The second half dawned with Newton receiving. The ball was taken on the Newton 33 and run back to the 39 where it was fumbled and recovered by Albertelli of Arlington.

Arlington took over with Kenealy tossing a 32 yard heave to Salisbury to the Newton 10. O'Brien carried on the next play but the Newton line broke through tackling him on the 35-a 25 yard loss.

Then using a well practiced play, Kenealy faded and let a 35 yard toss loose which connected with Salisbury who was standing in the Newton goal. The Arlington kick was good and they led, 19-7.

Newton took the kickoff on its 40 and carried to the Arlington 47 where they were forced to kick.

O'Brien received on his own 30 and went to the Arlington 35. A penalty against Newton for illegal use of hands put the ball on the midstripe. Kenealy carried to the 27 and then passed to O'Brien on the Newton two. Salisbury carried for the final tally. The kick again was no good and Arlington led, 25-7.

Newton attempted to make a comeback in the final minutes of the third quarter and again in the fourth quarter but the power of the Arlington eleven was too much for them. They fumbled twice and only that Coffey intercepted a pass on the Newton goal line prevented Arlington from scoring again during the last few seconds of the game.

SPOTS ON SPORTS

An still the scribes gripe about the poor excuse for a press box that surmounts the supposed stadium seats. If it rains all the notes wash away. If the wind blows they blow away. If it snows pneumonia sets in. If there is a disturbance the bench nearly tips over. If its cold no one can write without freezing their hands and yet Town fathers wonder why the lacking. An approximate cost PRESS coverage is seemingly of a suitable press box would be $500. All that needed is four sides and a top made of cheap wood. Even glass is not a necessity.

A note to whoever is in charge of marking the field: What happened last week? Did they forget to appropriate money for calcium? Not only were there no numerals on the yard lines but the lines were painted so that I doubt if the team knew where they were. Hope the situation will be remedied.

The PRESS picks as its players for the day: Lineman, Law Albertelli and Ray Hayes: Backfield Don O'Brien, Paul Salisbury and Bill Kenealy.

Quincy is next and what appeared to be a soft touch a week ago has developed into a triple threat with the south shore lads downing Somerville, 38-6. We played Somerville as our opener, Arlington took it 20-7.

Quincy Will Start First Team Players

QUINCY TO START

The best news out of the Quincy grid camp in weeks may be bad news for Arlington.

The word is that coach Munro McLean may be able to field what he considers his first team for the first time since the second game of the season.

Granite City residents are amazed that the Presidents have been able to compile their sturdy for wins and one loss record with three of their brightest regulars sidelined for the past three games and a fourth on the shelf for two. These injuries might help explain Quincy's only loss but McLean does not buy this logical alibi.

"Just say we lost to Weymouth," he said. "That will explain itself."

The string of injuries began just prior to the Revere game when little Bill Greighton, 165 pound left tackle, was hurt in a practice scrimmage. His value to the club is amply demonstrated by the fact that it took 190 pound John Webb and 210 pound Frank Luongo, operating shifts, to replace him.

The hostilities with Revere cost McLean the services of fullback Joe DiMartino as an end Angelo Locicero. The Weymouth game saw halfback Jim Griffin benched for physical reasons. Locicero and Griffin played a little in the Somerville encounter last Saturday but were way below par while DeMartinas has seen no action at all since he was hurt.

The quartet, however, is expected to be ready for the invasion of Arlington. Another factor that may bode ill for the Toczykowski men is recently discovered Jerry "Peanuts" Fraizer, a 135 pound scat back, who became the darling of Quincy followers by scooting to four touchdowns against Somerville. Fraizer was merely filling in for the injured Griffin.

Other members of the backfield which is interchangeable and reversible as the occasion demands, are quarterback Lou Brown, halfbacks Vin Salvucci, Ken Balducci and Jim Curry, and fullback Mike Oriola. None of them are heavier than Curry's 164 pounds. Griffin, at present, is the heavyweight of the ball carrying brigade at 180.

Most of the weight that McLean boasts is scattered throughout the line. Joe Watson, the ironman left guard, can muster 177 pounds. Defensive right guard John Tirone tips the scales at 228, and Al Pizzi these to Webb and Luongo, who will start if Creighton is not ready, and you have the giants of the forward wall. Pizzi, incidentally, is a brilliant, if erratic, punter. His 70 yards on the fly boot against Weymouth is still spoken of in awed tones where South Shore football fans gather.

In between the giants, the tonnage of the other linemen drops off sharply. Ends Jim McCormach and Ernie Marsters, who divide the injured Locicero's chores, barely reach 150. Center Ted Brigoli, the true standout of the frontier, goes 155. Tony Quintilliani, Tirone's offensive counterpart hits 155 and right tackle Wally Hesson stands at 160.

Winchester Wins Sixth Straight At Framingham

Showing an increasing tempo on attack, Winchester High School's unbeaten forces stayed in the select circle last Saturday as they subdued Framingham High by a crushing 26-6 score, and visions of a state title loomed large in the future.

With the Backfield of Bob Johnson, Joe Donlon and Bob O'Brien under the able direction of Jost Michelson, the Winchester forces, moving away from the familiar Manchester field for the first time since their streak began to develop, easily scored four touchdowns in their sixth win.

Starting in the second period, after a streamlined initial canon, Winchester powered 80 yards down field, with Michelson easing a jump pass over center into the sure fingers of Captain Tony Cirsuro for the tally. When Langdon Smith kicked the extra point, Winchester had it's win sewed up.

The half ended 7-0, but in the third period Donlon scored to wind up another steady march. Johnson and O'Brien both ate up large chunks of yardage in this advance. Smith again converted.

Michelson entered the scoring picture as the fourth period got under way. Faking a hand-off he sped around left end and ran 16 yards into the end zone to make the score 20-0.

The final tally was chalked up by Ed Sirieka, as he broke into the clear, outdistanced the secondary, and sprinted 65 yards for a score. It was the second brilliant run of the year for this promising sophomore.

The summary:

Weymouth battled to a 21-14 win over Brockton should make the Waltham Brockton game something to see. It could prove to be the big stumbling block for Waltham for a team that has a chance for the championship and losses 1 game is really going to try to win all the rest.

Clubhouse of the Arlington Boys'
Club swung into full speed this week.

From the big gym and its rapid fire action to the homework being done in the reading room the large membership at the club found an activity designed to suit their individual interests.

Under the direction of Jim Ke-nealy the gym program includes Volley Ball, Basketball, Floor Hoc-

many new group clubs are forming this fall. Assisting "Pop" this year will be Tufts students Richard Elliott and B. C. student Joe Robinson. Jerome "Jerry" Denman

here on. "Jerry" recently returned from N. Y. U. and the Boys' Clubs of America Orientation course will also supervise the Intermediate department and special services.

Volunteer leadership for an hour or two each week, afternoons, is desperately needed at the Boys'
Club. Small hand tools, saws, hammers, chisels, planes, Etc. are also in urgent need by the boys at the club. A phone call to the Boys' Club,
Ar-5-1617, will send someone to

Arlington High Girl Red Feather Winner

Constance Foote, winner of the Red Feather speaking contest in the Arlington High School, was warmly congratulated for winning third place in the finals of Greater Boston suburban high schools this week at Red Feather campaign headquarters, 14 Somerset street, Boston. She entered the finals as top contestant against the winners in the high schools of Belmont, Lexington, Waltham, Winchester and Woburn, all of the North Metropolitan area.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth I. Foote of 24 Eastern ave., Constance faced stiff competition against four other contestants from Cambridge, Somerville, Milton and Needham. It was a close contest and the judges were hard put in making final decisions.

Robert Dwyer of Cambridge High and Latin School who won top place against four girls will have the honor of presenting to his school for the coming year the handsome trophy cup held by Malden High School this year.

Constance brought home a copy of "An Encyclopedia of World History" by Langer, inscribed with a message of congratulation from Campaign Chairman Forrester A. Clark. She was also awarded a year's scholarship by Staley College of the Spoken Word, now observing its 50th year.

Prominent in the Dramatic Society of the High School, Constance will be remembered as playing the leading role in "You Can't Take it With You" last year. She is a talented musician and an active member of the Girls' club. She has been invited to speak at the Woman's club, Oct. 26, and will fill other local engagements in the interests of the Red Feather campaign.

McEvoy Warns Of Inflation

Representative Joseph P. McEvoy, Jr. states that inflation must be brought to a halt and high prices reduced if we are to have a sound economy and a prosperous era ahead.

Representative McEvoy, at a recent meeting, stated in part:

"Inflation, high prices and the soaring cost of living has affected each and every one of us. Certain classes of people have suffered particularly hard but no one has been able to escape its effect. The vast majority of us have been more or less helpless to do anything about the situation.

"The history of this country reveals what has happened in the past when inflation has been allowed to run rampant. Therefore, it is necessary that decisive action be taken immediately to check inflation and stabilize our economy.

"Prior to the outbreak of the Korean action, there had been a downward trend on many items and the inflationary spiral had been fairly well checked but since then we have all felt the impact of higher prices caused in many instances by speculators.

"Although this is to a large extent a matter for federal officials, yet your State officials can help and assist in certain ways. Some of the prices and rates on services and commodities used by many of us are subject to approval and authorization by agencies of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. I supported a Bill which was introduced for the purpose of amply protecting the rights of the public at hearings on the question of rates and prices. I also voiced my sentiments to the agencies concerned on matter that were before them.

"If re-elected as one of your two State Representatives from the

"Coolidge is...THE FATHER OF...THE M.T.A."

The POLITICAL PARADE by JAMES G. COLBERT

REPRINT BOSTON SUNDAY POST OCT. 15, '50

Former Lieutenant Governor Arthur W. Coolidge may discover that he has a bear by the tail in the MTA issue, on which the Republican high command is banking so heavily in the present gubernatorial campaign.

URGENT PURCHASE

For while the MTA may have been the stepchild of Governor Dever's administration, Mr. Coolidge is generally considered the father of the youngster — the MTA law — by those familiar with the order of events by which the Metropolitan Transit Authority came into being.

Mr. Coolidge was the head and guiding spirit of the commission which recommended that the people of 14 Greater Boston cities and towns buy the old Boston Elevated and set themselves up in the transit business.

He drew a bright picture in his efforts to sell the public the idea that it would be letting itself in on a pretty attractive proposition by buying out the El stockholders.

Glowing Forecast

In urging the speedy adoption of the bills which his commission sponsored, Mr. Coolidge, then Lieutenant Governor, on April 28, 1947, told the joint legislative committee on transportation and metropolitan affairs that the passage of the measures would result in "the finest self-supporting rapid transit system in the world, complete with ultra-modern conveniences for riding comfort."

That statement certainly does not establish Mr. Coolidge as any outstanding prophet on the subject. It would be interesting to know whether he still believes that.

Strong Report

He didn't mince any words or pull any punches in advocating the purchase of the Elevated. His commission in its report stated: "We cannot too strongly urge those in authority or responsible for the solution of the transportation problem of the metropolitan area to set up at once a Metropolitan Transit Authority which we have recommended; that public ownership of the Boston Elevated Railway be completed now."

In the light of subsequent events, it appears that Mr. Coolidge spearheaded a successful campaign to have the people pay more than $20,000,000 for a road which, on the basis of its own statements, was worthless at the time.

Paid $85 a Share

Under the so-called MTA law, which Mr. Coolidge fathered, a price of $85 per share was paid for the Elevated and its liabilities assumed. Since 238,794 shares of stock were outstanding, this amounted to $20,297,490.

The capital gains schedule, filed by the Elevated with the federal government on Aug. 29, 1947, showed that the assets of the road amounted to $82,164,185 and that the liabilities totaled $86,590,319.

Called It Bargain

But the Coolidge commission, which supposedly had carefully studied all aspects of the proposed purchase of the Elevated, said in its report: "The ownership of the property of the company (the Elevated) would give to the people a going concern at a value which has been built up beyond the option price by the use of public money and public credit."

In other words, Mr. Coolidge's commission maintained that at a price of $85 per share, the people were getting quite a bargain.

$75 Price Refused

Furthermore, on June 10, 1947, the Elevated directors advised the then Governor Bradford, the then Lieutenant Governor Coolidge and the chairman of the two legislative committees that if the Legislature would amend the pending bill to provide for the purchase of the stock instead of the assets of the road, which would have avoided a capital gains tax, they, the directors, would recommend to the stockholders that they accept $75 per share. This suggestion was not accepted.

So, the people actually paid $10 more per share than the price suggested by the El directors and for assets which Mr. Coolidge should have known were worthless if he had made a careful and thorough study of the matter.

Solons Fought It

Democratic leaders in the Legislature, headed by the present House Speaker, Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., and Senator Chester A. Dolan, Jr., made quite a fight to have the Elevated taken by eminent domain and let the courts decide how much the people should pay.

On the subject of eminent domain the Coolidge commission declared: "Some of these bills have provided for public acquisition by eminent domain. Acquisition by such means would make the price uncertain until after long and expensive litigation. Acquisition by eminent domain proceedings may be summarily disregarded as inimicable to the public interest."

$4,000,000 in Debt

We wonder if Mr. Coolidge still stands by that statement and if he believes that the courts would have had the people pay more than $20,000,000 for a road whose liabilities were $4,000,000 greater than its assets.

The Republican standard-bearer, in firing the opening salvo of his campaign in his home town of Reading last week, lashed out at Governor Dever on the MTA, and there is no doubt but that the G.O.P. strategists intend to make the MTA their big campaign issue. But the question may well be asked by Mr. Dever whether Mr. Coolidge himself wasn't principally responsible for the first and greatest blunder committed in paying $20,297,490 for a worthless road.

As a matter of fact, over the years the Republican record on the MTA and before it, the Boston Elevated, has been nothing about which the G.O.P. leaders are likely to do much boasting.

It was a Republican Legislature a little over 30 years ago which enacted the incredible law guaranteeing the Elevated stockholders a 5 per cent par dividend on their holdings and requiring the stockholders in the cities and towns served by the road to dig down into their pockets for whatever money was needed to pay that dividend.

It was a Republican administration that bailed out the Elevated, paid out more than $20,000,000 of the people's money for a broken-down system and at the same time sought to convince the public that it was getting a gilt-edge bargain.

Whatever may be said for or against Governor Dever's handling of the MTA problem since he assumed office, he at least tried to do something. The Republicans before him did nothing except dip into the pockets of the people whenever money was needed to balance the Elevated's books.

As a matter of fairness, Mr. Dever fought for seven months to avert an increase in the MTA fare. Two months after he took office he submitted a 10-point program to the Legislature which, if adopted, would have eliminated the necessity for boosting fares and was designed to prevent future deficits of staggering proportions.

He did succeed in slashing more than $4,000,000 from the yearly fixed charges of the road and his interim trustees saved in excess of $1,000,000 in operating costs through economies they introduced.

When the Governor was unsuccessful in his attempts to wipe out the requirement in the MTA law, making it mandatory to fix a fare adequate to cover the cost of service and substituting a permissive provision, and when other phases of his suggested program were turned down, there was no alternative open to the Dever trustees except to increase fares.

Inherited Problem

But it may be said for Governor Dever that he didn't sit on his hands, that he tried to meet the MTA problem head-on and that the problem was one he inherited and not of his own making.

Ironically, former Lieutenant Governor Coolidge, who made it clear in his kickoff speech in Reading last week that he will build much of his campaign on the MTA, had more to do with creating that MTA problem than any other one person.

It remains to be seen who will be hurt and helped by the MTA issue. Once the arguments start over that question, Mr. Coolidge is likely to be called upon for some explanations.

Letters To The Editor

For Dr. Stearns

THE ARLINGTON PRESS
James B. Dunbar, Publisher
Dear Mr. Dunbar:

Since the nomination of Dr. A. Warren Stearns of Billerica for Sheriff of Middlesex County a great many people have inquired, "Who is this man Stearns?" It is quite obvious that such people were impressed by his great vote-getting ability, as well as voicing personal curiosity.

Over the years, many groups have come to know Dr. Stearns. Some have known him as an outstanding criminologist, others recognize him as a noted psychiatrist, neurologist and physician. There are also those, particularly the veterans of both World Wars, who immediately identify him as a Captain in the Medical Corps, U. S. Navy, where, during World War II, he served as Consultant and Chief of Neuropsychiatric Service, Chelsea Naval Hospital District. On the other hand, there are some who may not be fully informed of Dr. Stearns' qualifications. It is for those that this letter is intended.

Dr. Stearns financed his undergraduate and graduate college studies by working after class hours. The combination of fortitude and brilliant mental capacity resulted in his attaining the degree of Doctor of Medicine at Tufts Medical School and later, professorships in the Departments of Neurology and Psychiatry. Subsequently, for nearly twenty years he served as Dean of Tufts Medical School. He is presently Chairman of the Department of Sociology and Professor of Sociology at Tufts College.

Academically he has been an Austin Teaching Fellow at the Harvard Medical School, instructor in the School of Social Work, Smith College, and instructor of mental hygiene, Simmons College.

Dr. Stearns has attracted nationwide attention by his outstanding record of official service to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as Commissioner of Correction, medico-legal consultant to the courts, Associate Commissioner of Mental Diseases, Executive Assistant to the State Board of Insanity, psychiatrist to the State Prison, Medical Director at the Bridgewater State Asylum, and consulting psychiatrist to the Middlesex County Training School.

He has also served as Physician-in-Chief of the Neurological Service, Boston Dispensary; Physician-in-charge of the Out-Patient Department, Boston Psychopathic Hospital; and is consultant to many community hospitals throughout Massachusetts.

In Veteran's affairs, Dr. Stearns has served as consultant to the Chelsea Naval Hospital, the Murphy General Hospital, the Bedford Veterans Administration Hospital, the Portsmouth, New Hampshire, Naval Hospital, and many other veterans' hospitals.

Dr. Stearns descends from an old Arlington family. His maternal great-great-grandfather, Abel Proctor, was a resident of this community, then known as the town of West Cambridge. Abel Proctor's son, Abel Russell Proctor, continued to live here and for years operated a department store in Arlington center. A daughter, Mary, was married to Fred Fowle, who for many years was Arlington's postmaster. Fred Fowle donated the triangular piece of land at the junction of Massachusetts Avenue and Broadway to the Town of Arlington for the purpose of placing thereon the present soldier's monument established in commemoration of the Arlington men who gave their lives for the Union during the Civil War. Through the years Dr. Stearns has retained his interest in Arlington; for more than twenty-five years he has been consultant to the Symmes Arlington Hospital. During the war years many Arlington mothers were assured of the security of their husbands or sons after a personal visit from Captain Stearns. An encouraging word from him brought many persons back from a state of dissolution to confidence. Dr. Stearns' strict adherence to professional ethics prevents those situations from becoming generally known. It is only through other channels that the results of his comforting counsel have been revealed.

Dr. Stearns' campaign has attained cosmopolitan characteristics. It has developed into an alliance of citizens covering every walk of life, regardless of political affiliations, social status, or age, all of whom are enthusiastically interested in promoting the candidacy of such a unique personality unique because persons having a broad background of such outstanding qualifications rarely offer their services for the benefit of the whole people. The citizens of Middlesex County are fortunate that the life-long experience of the nominee for Sheriff matches so perfectly each specific requirement of the office to which he aspires. Furthermore he is intensely interested in initiating a plan concerning crime in its entirety. He feels that when a person comes into the hands of the law, his personality and life situation should be thoroughly studied, his assets and liabilities weighed in the balance, and a constructive program established in penal administration in penal administration could result in the ultimate projection of nation-wide prison reforms.

Very truly yours,
Daniel M. Hooley

Against Lottery

James B. Dunbar, Publisher
Dear Mr. Dunbar:

The security of our democracy is in the moral standards and spiritual quality of its people. The citizens of Massachusetts are faced with the responsibility of developing a Christian conscience which creates the mental, moral and spiritual atmosphere in which life can be lived at its best in their communities. On Tuesday, November 7 the citizens of Arlington will vote. You will be asked to vote for or against the State Lottery which is question 4 on the ballot.

Citizens—don't put the State in the gambling business. Gambling has become big business. To legalize gambling to any extent is to increase illegal gambling to far greater extent. From 9 to 11 billion dollars are expended each year in America in various kinds of gambling. History shows that legalizing any form of gambling results in greater gambling and an accompanying degree of social degeneration.

We are told that the State Lottery, if adopted, will pay the Old Age benefits of the state. So are we told that 53 million dollars is necessary to pay the additional costs of new Old Age Assistance benefits. I am not opposed to a sound program of deserving assistance, but the proposed State Lottery is not the way to do it. Such a lottery would require that every man, woman and child in Massachusetts purchase 4 tickets ($1.00 per ticket) every month to promote the plan. I urge you to oppose putting the state into the gambling business as a method of financing such a worthy objective as Old Age Assistance.

Gambling is morally wrong, based as it is, on a desire to get something for nothing. It has been described as "a school of avarice." Gambling is socially wrong because it sets certain patterns of poverty, broken homes, delinquency and crime. One of the most serious aspects of present gambling in the United States is the political corruption that gambling magnates have brought about in municipal and state government.

On Tuesday, November 7, I urge you to vote NO on question No. 4. Don't put Massachusetts in the gambling business.

Rev. Lewis W. Williamson
Minister at Large, Arlington Council of Churches.

Corcoran On Gott Record

Dear Sir:

The official legislative record of Representative Hollis Gott at the State House reveals the following additional amazing positions on important legislative measures:

1. On February 16, 1948, Mr. Gott voted against a resolve to admit Ireland and all other peace-loving nations as members of the United Nations.

Such a vote only further emphasizes the lack of judgement on the part of Mr. Gott.

2. On April 17, 1948, Mr. Gott voted against permissive legislation to allow cities and towns to decide for themselves whether or not policemen should have the 40-hour week; and only two weeks ago such legislation was approved unanimously by our Board of Selectmen and also adopted by unanimous vote of the Town Meeting. This adds further proof to the contention that Mr. Gott does not really represent his constituents at the State House.

3. On February 15, 1950, Mr. Gott voted against exemption of churches from the excise tax on meals; thus showing that Mr. Gott would even tax church charities, therefore limiting their income so therefore limiting their income so their good works.

4. On April 5, 1948, however, Mr. Gott was the only one to vote against increasing the tax on Horse and Dog Racing—a conclusive evidence that Hollis Gott is more concerned with the financial problems of the Racing Interests than he is with the income of our churches.

In conclusion, I submit that such a record shows that Mr. Gott does not represent Arlington fairly in the State Legislature, and should be retired.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence E. Corcoran

Predicts Dever Vote To Exceed That Of 1948

John H. O'Brien, President of the Young Democratic Club of Arlington and member of the Democratic Town Committee last night predicted that Governor Paul A. Dever will carry Arlington by a larger margin than he did in his successful campaign two years ago.

"There are several strong basic reasons that virtually assure a large Arlington vote for the Governor", O'Brien stated, in an address before the campaign committee of the Democratic Town Committee.

"The people of Arlington appreciate an active and humane government, and yet are, perhaps, more aware of the need of intelligent economy than the voters of most communities", he said.

"The Dever administration has demonstrated that improvements and economy can be achieved at the same time. Just look at the facts that die-hard Republicans refuse to face. Yes, the facts that Liberal Republicans and Independents—and, of course, Democrats—are proud to display.

Dever balanced his budget in each of his two years as Governor. Dever has refused to impose new taxes.

And Dever has repealed two old tax laws adopted in prior administrations. This record can be readily recognized by any Arlington taxpayer as unusually intelligent economy," O'Brien continued.

"While displaying his economy-mindedness Dever refused to allow long-entrenched, vested-interest groups to deprive the people of Massachusetts of better roads, better mental institutions, better schools, better hospitals and better recreational facilities. Why, the strides forward Massachusetts has made in any one of these fields would be sufficient to show the people of Arlington that Dever has done a very good job.

The Governor's vote in Arlington is also expected to be swelled by the fact that there is great dissatisfaction with the negative Republican legislation and platform, even among Republicans. Many of those who come out to vote against some lesser candidate, will vote against the Republican party all along the line," O'Brien predicted.

"The strong candidates with great general appeal that the Democratic Party is placing before the people of Arlington contrasts sharply with the battle-riddled candidates on the Republican ticket", he continued. "Each Republican seems to have large factions that refuse to line up. And this disunity naturally is hurting the chances of all of the Republican aspirants and Francis E. Kelly for Attorney General all working together for progress and efficiency serve to unite their strength and guarantee their victory.

Dever will carry Arlington and of course, the Commonwealth and will serve all the people of Massachusetts for two more years", he concluded.

Among those saluted with birthday greetings last Saturday on the WCOP Young Timer's Club were:

John Burchill, 8 Jean Road, and Ellen Collins, 15 Cross Street, both of Arlington.
